

"Manners Maketh The Man"

Over the doorway of one of the old colleges of England are inscribed the words: "Manners maketh the man."

It is not how the man is dressed, but what he himself really is, that is the measure of his worth.

This applies equally well to Watches bearing the "BIRKS" name.

Although they may only be dressed in cases of Sterling Silver, they are quite as reliable timekeepers—their manners are quite as good as though clothed in cases of solid gold.

In our large stock of Gentlemen's Wrist Watches we have a complete assortment in Sterling Silver cases, ranging in price from $15.00 to $50.00, and in solid gold from $30.00 to $100.00.

TRACK TEAM CANDIDATES OUT IN FORCE

All Last Year's Squad In

TRIALS ON FRIDAY.

Coach Van Wagner Has Arranged the Time Schedule.

The work of getting the track team into shape is proceeding merrily, and a smile can be seen on Van Wagner's face where last week there was nothing but deep and thoughtful frowns. The reason for all of the joy is found in the announcement that all of last year's squad are out at work at last, and, in addition, a promising-looking squad of recruits.

Yesterday afternoon about forty candidates for the team were out on the field and track, and a snappy workout was held. Some of the men are not in the best of condition as yet, but many of them are in good shape for a really stiff trial at any time.

Antliff was out on the track for the first time last night, and does not appear to be in need of any great amount of training. He ripped off a mile and a half in good time, and then turned to pole vaulting for some time. Antliff is one of the main hopes of the team this year, and he seems to be justifying the confidence placed in him.

Among some of the new men who look promising for the team are Roy McLaren and Roy Foss. Both of these men have been at the college for some time but could not be persuaded to turn out. Now they have the right spirit and are out to give everyone a run for positions on the intercollegiate team. McLaren specializes at the sprints, and, while he has contented himself with getting into condition so far, he should show some of his speed in the meet on Saturday.

Roy Foss is well known to anyone who attended the inter-scholastic meets of pre-war days. He and his brother Don, of last year's track team, were always big attractions in the jumping and weight events, and it may prove that the same will be the case in the intercollegiate meet this year. At any rate, if Roy is not on the team, the man who defeats him will be good for a win in the intercollegiate.

Starting this afternoon, Coach Van Wagner will work with the men on the following schedule:

Candidates for the 100, 220 and 440 yard events and the hurdles will turn out at 4.00 p.m., or as soon after that time as possible.

Candidates for the distance events, as well as the men in the weight or jumping events, will report at 4.45 p.m.

Men who cannot turn out at the above hours will, of course, turn out whenever possible.

On Friday afternoon trials will be held for all candidates other than those in the first and second years. Those who are taking part in the sports on Saturday will not compete, but all others in condition to do so will take part in the trials.

SWIMMING CLUB ARRANGEMENTS

Trials To Be Held the Latter Part Of This Week.

The first meeting of the McGill Swimming Club was held yesterday afternoon in the Union. Although McGill students no longer have the privileges of the Central Y.M.C.A., arrangements have been made whereby the Swimming Club will have the use of the bath for all bona fide members five afternoons a week—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 5.30-6.55; Tuesday, Thursday, 5.30-6.30. Trials will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at 5.30. The purposes of these trials will be to choose all those who show promise of making the teams. Passes will be given to these men, which will admit them to the bath for the remainder of the season. No others will be admitted. Any who intend trying for the teams must turn out this week, and if possible to-night. All men turning out will, after getting their towel tickets, go down to the locker room, where arrangements have been made to pass them.

WILY SOPHS ARE EXPECTING WIN

Contest At Fresh-Soph Meet
Expected To Be Keen.

The campaign for supremacy between the Freshman and Sophomore years is going on apace, and rumors are about of plots by the wily second year men to humble their younger opponents in every manner possible. Realizing that all hostilities in the form of rushes are called off on the day when the Freshman-Sophomore games are held, the Sophs are planning to come out on the long end of the score in the meet.

Of course, the Freshmen have by far the larger number of men to enter in the games, but the second year hope to come out the victors by sending in a highly trained batch of athletes. Even under these circumstances, it will be difficult for them to win if the Freshmen would enter every man possible.

The trouble is that the new men are not well enough organized to present a solid front to their more experienced opponents. It, therefore, is more or less the task of the individual Freshmen to turn out and work for the honor of their class. Any plan whereby they could get all of their men in action would be by far the best, but, failing that, it is up to the individual.

So far, up on the track there has been a likely looking bunch of new men in training but not enough of them to accomplish the object they should strive for on Saturday afternoon. It is a well-known fact that the new classes have among their numbers several men who should be able to easily carry their events if they would only turn out. Nervousness holds some of them back, while others are doubtful of their ability in the company of the college team.

It must be understood that in Saturday's meet very few of the experienced men will be competing, as only members of the first two years are allowed to enter the contest. If anyone can run, jump, or throw weights, or if they even think they can do any of these things, they should turn out on the track immediately. Many of the men who are turning out are doing so for the first time, and there is room for any amount of new material.

What is essential is that men who intend to take part in the meet should put their names on the entry list at once. There are now lists at the hall porter's desk in the Union, and in the dressing room up at the stadium. Use either list and mark your name down to-day.

SURGEONS TO MEET SHORTLY IN MONTREAL

Dr. George Armstrong Of McGill is President.

EPOCH-MAKING EVENT

First Time in History That Convention Has Met in Canada.

Characterized as one of the epoch-making events of the year, the annual session of the Clinical Convocation of the American College of Surgeons will be held in Montreal during the week of October 10th to 17th.

This will be the first time in its history that a session of the convocation has been held in Canada, the previous meetings having taken place in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and London, Eng. It was decided largely on the invitation of several Montreal Fellows of the Society who have taken an active interest in the work of the Association, among whom are many members of the staff of the McGill Medical Faculty, the chief movers in the work of the College of Surgeons in Montreal being: Dr. Geo. E. Armstrong, Dr. Birkett, Dr. W. W. Chipman, Dr. Alex. Hutchison and Col. J. M. Elder.

One of the main reasons for holding the meeting in Montreal is in recognition of this city as the greatest medical centre of Canada, as well as an educational centre of international fame. Another factor in the decision is that Dr. Armstrong, Professor of Surgery and Clinical Surgery at McGill, is the president of the Association.

Arrangements have now been completed whereby ample accommodation has been provided for the visitors. Some difficulty was at first experienced, it being necessary to get the use of one of the steamers of the Canada Steamship Lines as a floating hotel. It will be moored to the Victoria Pier, where a temporary taxi-cab station will probably be located.

The formal opening of the Convocation will take place on Monday, October 11th, at the St. James Methodist Church. The address of welcome to the delegates will probably be read by Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., Principal of McGill University. W. J. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., the retiring president of the college, will also give an address. The chief speaker of the evening will be Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, and former Professor of Anatomy at McGill.

There will be no social programme, the entire stay of the surgeons being devoted to work. Each morning surgical clinics will be held in all the hospitals of the city. The afternoons will be devoted to specialist work, while special clinics on special subjects will be held every afternoon in the Windsor Hotel by eminent surgeons. The evenings will be devoted to the reading of papers on surgery. A feature of the convocation will be the study of surgical experience gained during the war.

Among the British guests of note will be Sir B. Moynihan, of Leeds; Sir William Taylor, C.B., of Dublin; A. Carless, C.B.E., of Essex.

The presidential meeting will be held on Friday evening at the St. James Hall, where a ceremonial gathering will bring the convention to a close. Dr. Armstrong, the new president, will give his presidential address, and Sir B. Moynihan will deliver an address on surgery. Some five hundred new Fellows will be admitted to the society, and a few honorary fellowships will be conferred on distinguished visitors. During the evening degrees will be conferred, and the picturesque ceremony of handing over the silver mace presented by the consulting surgeons of the British Army to their American colleagues in recognition of their distinguished services during the war will take place. It is hoped that Sir Anthony Bowlby, the chief consulting surgeon to the British Army, will be present, and if so, he will perform the presentation ceremony.

The American College of Surgeons was organized in 1910 by a group of American and Canadian surgeons who felt the need of a clinical meeting in some large centre, where they could get together and exchange ideas. From that beginning grew the American College of Surgeons, whose first convocation was held in 1913.

In the work of the college the Canadians have been largely interested and form a large part of the

THE DAILY STAFF

Supplementing the invitation issued to the undergraduate body of the University in the Handbook, with special reference to the men of the first year, we take this means of emphasizing the opportunity that awaits all college men of gaining practical newspaper experience with the "Daily." The college paper is run on thoroughly modern and efficient lines, has a normal staff of at least fifty, and is edited and issued by undergraduates holding honorary positions. Every member of the staff is given the opportunity of learning all the various details of newspaper routine; there is accordingly variety and a larger field of opportunity for the beginner in this office than would be found in the narrow limits of a professional newspaper staff.

College newspaper work gives a man a thorough comprehension of every sphere of college life, acquaints him with affairs outside of his own faculty, widens out his college existence. The staff are not in any sense a clique, for its composition is of men from all quarters of the campus, bound together by willingness and a desire to do their share for Old McGill.

There is every prospect of excellent support this year; new men have "obeyed that impulse" and have introduced themselves. They are welcome and we hope they will make good. But there are others, doubtless, many who would find their "Daily" experience a great asset in aiding them to find adequate self-expression at college and after graduation. This reminder is for their notice. If they see it worth while, and are willing to lend a hand, they can at least not lose anything by a tryout.

J. H. T. FALK IN SOCIAL SERVICE

Will Devote Part Time to Montreal Council.

Mr. J. Howard T. Falk, of the McGill Social Service Department, has been engaged as executive secretary by the newly-formed Montreal Council of Social Agencies. An arrangement was completed last Thursday whereby Mr. Falk is to devote part of his time only to his new office while continuing his duties in the university Social Service Department. The arrangement will in no way interfere with the development of the McGill department; in fact it is expected that the Department will benefit from it since Mr. Falk will have daily practical experience with the problems which he deals with from a theoretical standpoint in the class room.

It is asserted by the officers of the Council of Social Agencies that the activities of that body, when in actual operation, will justify more than ever the need in the University of the Social Service Department. The purpose of the Council is to bring into line all the societies and institutions in the city which minister to the sickness, misery and delinquency of the unfortunate. The programme at present is to enable all agencies engaged in social work to realize the relation of their different functions in the community. It also strives to facilitate co-operation in solving problems and in creating an intelligent public opinion concerning social problems.

The following are the officers of the Council: J. S. Brierley, president; Mrs. A. Drummond, Mrs. R. W. R. Ford, George Lyman, Dr. Colin Russell, vice-presidents; honorary treasurer, R. J. Dale; honorary secretary, E. R. Paterson; chairman finance committee, L. S. Colwell; chairman confidential exchange, Miss Boswell; chairman of executive, George Lyman. Division officers: sick and handicapped, Dr. A. K. Haywood; chairman, Dr. G. S. Mundie, vice-chairman; dependency and delinquency, J. B. Dawson, chairman; John Kidman, Mrs. Herbert Marler, vice-chairmen; education and recreation, Dr. A. S. Lamb, chairman; John Bradford, Miss Bolduc, vice-chairmen; child welfare, J. A. McBride, chairman; Miss K. Moore, Mrs. H. P. Heywood, vice-chairmen.

Correspondence

The "Daily" is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length. Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office — that they write upon ONE side of the paper ONLY. No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

Editor-in-Chief,
McGill "Daily,"
Dear Sir,—

As an impartial observer, I feel it necessary to point out that the policy of the "Daily" in certain respects is regarded with considerable disfavor by many of the student body. To anyone with a spark of sincerity in him, nothing could appear more nauseous than the deliberate "canvassing" by the editorial staff, of prominent men about the college with a view to having them provide a "boost"—whether deserved or not is beside the point—in the first issue.

What purpose can be served by the printing of a collection of laudatory messages in the "Daily," which has this year done little or nothing to deserve them? Surely such an editorial policy is lacking in the dignity which should attach to a publication like "McGill Daily."

What a lot of students would like to see is the "Daily" standing on its own feet, irrespective of praise or blame, pursuing its policy in a disinterested fashion. Buck up, you men on the staff, and show some backbone!

DEAN THORNTON WILL SPEAK

Will Later Deliver Same Address in Ottawa.

It was learned some time ago that Dr. Thornton was to deliver an address in Ottawa at a not far distant date on "Specialists as Compared to General Practitioners in Dentistry." He has kindly consented to speak first to the Dental Society on the above mentioned date on this important and instructive subject, and the society is undoubtedly very fortunate in having secured the services of our worthy Dean on this occasion.

This is the first meeting of the Dental Society for the session of 1920-21, and every member should show his appreciation of Dr. A. W. Thornton's kindness in being present. They will not only enjoy a literary treat, but will also receive much useful knowledge of a lasting nature.

PROF. DALE AT WINDSOR
Silver Cigarette Case Presented By Friends.

"THE HOPE OF TO-DAY."

Prof. Dale Trusts Human Nature To Rise Above Present-day Conditions.

Over one hundred friends of Professor J. A. Dale, M.A. (Oxon), who has for twelve years been Macdonald Professor of Education at McGill, attended a dinner in his honor at the Oak Room at the Windsor Hotel on Tuesday, September 28th, on the occasion of his appointment as Professor of Social Service at Varsity.

Mr. Francis A. Hankin presented Professor Dale with a silver cigarette case as a token of appreciation by his friends of the value of his work at McGill.

Professor Dale, in acknowledging the presentation, mentioned his regret at leaving McGill and Montreal.

Among the guests were Mr. H. E. Ross, K.C., who acted as chairman; Mr. Justice Weir, Rev. Dr. H. Symonds, B. K. Sandwell and other prominent educationalists and sociologists. The City Improvement League was well represented.

In rising to speak, Professor Dale was greeted with loud applause.

His subject, "The Hope of To-day," and his remarks on existing conditions were both forceful and pointed.

"To-day," he said, "the world is in a battered condition. Living conditions are impossible. We are urging men to live decently, and we do not let them obtain conditions conducive to decent living."

"The dreamy mid-Victorian period, in its well-fed optimism, gave evidences of prosperity which did not materialize in the face of the upheaval which laid the world in ruins. The war itself, that outburst of brutal folly, gave the lie to our highest ideals, such as that reason is greater than force when it comes to international relations."

"And yet, in spite of misery and poverty, man is indomitable. Human nature is so balanced and counter-balanced as to always progress towards higher things. Progress is real, and although we may judge from conditions at present that it is hopeless, this is not so. We shall have, from existing unrest, better things."

Following the presentation to Professor Dale, James Wright, Prof. Howard Falk, of the Department of Social Service, Mr. Justice Weir and others spoke.

Following the presentation to Professor Dale, James Wright, Prof. Howard Falk, of the Department of Social Service, Mr. Justice Weir and others spoke.

Laundry rates were in some cases increased during last session, and haberdashery is still going up.

Paper has been raised to phenomenal heights, partially as a result of the American Underwood Resolution, which has plucked our paper-makers to increase the price of their products. This has its reflex in the cost of books.

The Montreal Tramways Co. has issued a new tariff which replaces the familiar "5 for 30 cents" strip with a minute and scarcely visible bit of paper, perforated in three places, and selling for two bits. And railway fares! The ceaseless round of boosted wages and boosted rates whirled merrily on, and the student has to pay more for his transportation to McGill.

Worse still, several of Montreal's leading theatres have seen fit to increase their prices of admission. Tobacco has gone up — again — and all the other incidentals and luxuries of the McGill man's life have joined the Interprice Forward Movement.

We shall take the increase of fees without a protest; but we hope something else will break somewhere, to relieve the pressure.

FEES HAVE GONE UP THIS YEAR

They Have Joined the General Climax in H.C.L.

The increase in fees, which was announced this summer, came as a surprise to few of the students. The general attitude of most of us towards an increase in the cost of anything is one of dull apathy.

Unfortunately, fees are not the only items of the student's budget which have taken a jump. Practically every detail of his expense sheet has established a new high record.

Rents on all classes of buildings have increased enormously, and are shortly to go up again. As a result, the student must pay a fancy price for his back-room with linoleum carpet and stove in the hall outside.

Single rooms are offered at prices ranging as high as $35 a month, and double rooms at as stunning a figure as $25 a month for each roomer.

This is partly due to the great demand for rooms for conventions; for Montreal, since prohibition in the United States, has become the "convention city" of America. It is also due to the after-war expansion of trade, manufacturing and shipping in the Canadian metropolis.

Although a break in food-stuffs and clothing is foreseen, it has not yet become effective. Relief on that score will probably not be felt this session.

Laundry rates were in some cases increased during last session, and haberdashery is still going up.

Paper has been raised to phenomenal heights, partially as a result of the American Underwood Resolution, which has plucked our paper-makers to increase the price of their products. This has its reflex in the cost of books.

The Montreal Tramways Co. has issued a new tariff which replaces the familiar "5 for 30 cents" strip with a minute and scarcely visible bit of paper, perforated in three places, and selling for two bits. And railway fares! The ceaseless round of boosted wages and boosted rates whirled merrily on, and the student has to pay more for his transportation to McGill.

Worse still, several of Montreal's leading theatres have seen fit to increase their prices of admission. Tobacco has gone up — again — and all the other incidentals and luxuries of the McGill man's life have joined the Interprice Forward Movement.

We shall take the increase of fees without a protest; but we hope something else will break somewhere, to relieve the pressure.

RIFLE CLUB REORGANIZES

Three Big Shoots Will Be Held This Fall.

The McGill Rifle Association has practically lain in the dormant state during the past six years, but it now has a chance to wake up with a bang if the students give it proper support.

Last year the military authorities of this district were unable to supply the club with the necessary rifles and ammunition. There was a general unrest in the city, and it was not deemed advisable to let any group of men who got together and called themselves a Civilian Rifle Association, have rifles and ammunition in their hands. Things have now changed, and the Government offers every assistance to a club like ours.

The association will have the use of the Pointe aux Trembles Ranges, and it is proposed to hold three big shoots on the three Saturdays before the Rugby season starts at McGill.

A meeting of all the men who wish to shoot will be held in Room B, Strathcona Hall, to-morrow at 5 p.m. A membership list will be drawn up for the military authorities. Rifles and ammunition will be issued out according to this list, so that every man intending to shoot must be present or send a representative. Additions to the list will be difficult to make. A few officers will be elected, and plans for the season will be discussed. Competitions will be arranged for if possible. The fees must be made low enough so that every student can afford to become a member.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION TO BE GIVEN WIDER SCOPE

Dr. Lamb Emphasizes Value Of Exercise — Ample Accommodation Assured — All Exercise To Be Of Recreative Nature — Medical Examination Is Proceeding At Phenomenal Rate.

The Department of Physical Education at McGill this year is going to mean something more to the student than it has ever been in the past. Extensive changes have taken place since last session and the field of work which this department will control this session is enlarged considerably.

Dr. A. S. Lamb is the director of this department for the coming year. At the present time the physical examination for the students entering college, is occupying the time of both Dr. Lamb and Dr. Harvey. The purpose of this examination is to categorize the students according to their physical fitness, and to ready any defects by a carefully planned course in some sort of physical culture best calculated to suit the individual needs.

Proceeding on the well-known adage, that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," Dr. Lamb wants to interest every student in some sort of physical exercise. All physical exercise will be of a recreative nature and made as interesting as possible.

All students of the first two years in Arts, Science, Medicine and Dentistry are required to do two hours of supervised exercise each week and members of any University Athletic team are recognized as fulfilling the requirements.

The desire of the University authorities is to have each man voluntarily take up some kind of Athletics and it is only to meet the needs of those who do not do this, that gymnastics is prescribed.

The health of the student is the first consideration and in order that a man may do justice to the things requiring mental exertion his body should be kept in prime condition. To further meet this need a new feature is being introduced this session. This is taking the form of a health board where any student may receive medical advice. Dr. Harvey will be in attendance each day except Saturday and Sunday at the department office between twelve and twelve-thirty. If the condition of any student is such that it warrants his being admitted into hospital, the necessary arrangements will be made by the department at no charge to the student. In cases requiring X-ray treatment, the testing of the eyes, and all such special work a requisition will be given to the student, and this work will be done for him without charge. This new feature is a very praiseworthy one and reflects much credit upon its originators. It is the first time that this has been tried out in a Canadian University, but no doubt of its success need be entertained. There has been a crying need for such a system to combat disease and sickness among the students. Deplorable as it may seem, it is nevertheless a fact that the social evil exacts its toll from among the students. To combat this evil and to protect the students from quacks, is one of the aims of this department, and Dr. Lamb wants each and every man to feel and know that at any time he is prepared to counsel, advise and assist students on all personal matters.

The School of Physical Education will go farther than it has done in the past, and a very complete course covering two years will be given. At the present time there are twenty students registered for this course this session. A suitable house for the accommodation of the students has been obtained, opposite the R. V.C., and this is also under the direction of Dr. Lamb. The M.A.A.A. Gymnasium will be used by the school and, from the programme outlined, the course should be most interesting. All physical activities, both of men and women, the Physical Education School, health board, and

HARRIERS HAVE STRONG NUCLEUS

Antliffe, Hamilton and Boucher Back at College.

Of last year's Red and White harrier team which won the Inter-collegiate championship, a strong nucleus yet remains at college.

Hamilton will again turn out, together with Antliffe and Boucher, two other star athletes. There is undoubtedly plenty of yet unearthened material at the University, and as three good runners only do not constitute a winning team, it is hoped that a large number will turn out. The men trying for the team will, until the track meet is held, train regularly with the track men, under Coach Van Wagner, and, following that, will go out on special daily runs. R. L. Hamilton, the president of the club, is in charge of the arrangements, and asks that the men come out to the track and get into condition as soon as possible.

The Inter-collegiate run will be held at Toronto this year, around the end of October or the beginning of November, and the course will be over five or six miles of country. The members of the team are chosen on the results of the collegiate run held about a week previous to the Inter-collegiate.

Big plain "M's" will be awarded to those finishing amongst the first four in the Toronto run.

The enthusiasm evinced last year in connection with the Harriers is looked for again this year with the increased enrolment of students.

All recreative work will be under the direction of the department of the Physical Education.

The organization is now complete, and Dr. Lamb plans to give special attention to all kinds of Inter-Faculty Athletics because he realizes that a great many men who do not turn out for University teams are often induced to take up athletics in this way.

There will be no lack of room for the various activities, no less than eight buildings being used for the work. The Y.M.C.A. Tank will be used for swimming and water-polo for the men and the Y.W.C.A. for the women students. The Union will be used for the Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club.

The Montreal High School Gymnasium will be used for Indoor Baseball and for Basketball. Dr. Lamb promises us something good; he has secured the Red Triangle Hut, where there is plenty of accommodation for spectators and so the team should not suffer from any lack of support. During the course of the next week, Dr. Lamb's department will be very busy examining students, and it is hoped that every student will present himself for examination at the time allotted to his Faculty, and so facilitate the work of the examiners.

The efficiency of the Department has been so increased this year that four hundred and fifty men have been examined in three days. In former years, it has taken as many weeks to complete the examination of a like number of men.

Miss E. M. Cartwright is in charge of the Women's Department of Physical Education. The majority of the ladies' registration have already declared its intention of taking up the work of this department.

SENIOR SQUAD IS ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

Training Table Started Last Night.

LINE STRONGER.

Heavy Workouts Will Be Continued During the Week.

Shag will have to take a course in mathematics if he intends to keep tally of the candidates who are turning out for the football team. Yesterday about ninety men, or at least there should have been that number as we counted six teams in action—were out on the field and the stiffest workout of the season was indulged in. The coach is devoting his time entirely to the senior squad at present in an endeavor to get them in shape for Saturday's game and the men are feeling the effects of his attention.

For a solid hour the first squad worked against the intermediates and at the conclusion of the practice all of the players were exhausted. Whether the team wins or not on Saturday it will not be said by any of the spectators that the players did not know their signals. Play after play was driven into their heads by the quarterback, with the assistance of a few enlightening remarks by the coach, until the men felt that they would dream of them last night.

The line has the appearance of being somewhat stronger than at any time since the beginning of the practice and the railbirds are expressing hopes that it may be equal of last year's outfit. The addition of Russell Donnelly and Les Parsons to the squad brought a little of the desired weight to the line. Parsons is in poor condition but is fighting hard for a place on the team; Donnelly should be able to catch a place on the team if he puts his mind on the job for two or three days.

The training table was started up last night and the players showed the result of the hard workout by the way they tore at the hearty meal set before them. When the list of men to report to the training table came out it contained the names of three men who have been showing up on the second squad and are about due to make the step up to the seniors. The men are: G. Ross, Clyde Mathewson and Silk Murphy. Murphy has given up his position as shimmy king in the rollers club to do the harder work on the gridiron; Mathewson is one of the coming men in Inter-collegiate football; he has taken on much of the weight necessary to catch a place on the line and has the spirit that the Mathewson family has always been noted for in college athletics.

Heavy workouts will be continued throughout the week until the men are fully primed for the Queens game and, if the team does not come back with a win it will not be the fault of the team or the coach but that of the Queens outfit.

Breaking his neck by a fall from a haystack, nine years ago, a patient recently died in a Shropshire (Eng.) asylum, aged 83.

A metal lighter than any yet known, and as strong or stronger than steel, has for years been the dream of many, and every now and then rumors are circulated to the effect that at last it has been discovered. The latest report to be circulated relates to a new magnesium alloy, said to have been discovered by a metal company of Montreal. The new alloy, it is stated, is only two-thirds the weight of aluminum, and is "as strong as steel." It is said to be especially suitable for pistons and connecting rods of aero and motor-car engines, where strength and lightness are desirable.

BADGE RULES.

Every year there is some trouble about the use of non-regulation uniforms and crests about the campus and stadium. The trouble is only with the freshmen, who are ignorant of the regulations concerning the use of "foreign" badges.

It is only natural that the freshmen should be proud of the prep. school from which they have graduated, but, once they have become students at McGill, they are bound by regulation to wear no other crest but that of Old McGill.

The ruling concerning the use of badges is as follows:

"The promiscuous use of non-regulation uniforms and the wearing of 'foreign' badges on the campus, or at any University athletic contest, is prohibited, and if this offence be persisted in after due warning, such offender may be debarred from participation in University athletics until reinstated by the Athletic Association."

THEO. COLLEGES REPORT CHANGES

New Courses For Y.M.C.A. Leaders and Social Workers.

The Theological Colleges are beginning to recover from the effects of the war as is witnessed by the increased registration. The curriculum has been considerably revised and several important additions have been made to the courses. Amongst other changes there have been added to the list courses for Directors of Religious Education; for Secretaries of Young Men's and Women's Christian Associations; for Social Workers; leaders of Boys' and Girls' Activities; and Physical Instructors for Schools and Christian Associations. All active Y.M.C.A. workers in the city are taking certain courses of instruction to fit them the better for their work. In all departments, Matriculation classes, Arts and Theology the numbers of freshmen show a very healthy indication that the spiritual side of life has not been entirely neglected or forgotten, and that men can always be found for carrying on the Church's message. That a great "Renaissance" is coming for churches of all creeds is a fact too well known to comment upon and is recognized by every thinking man or woman in the world to-day. It is only by possessing an army of properly trained and fully equipped men, deeply cognizant of the enormity of the work to be done, and ready to give their best for the great cause that is to benefit humanity at large, that the churches of the present day can hope to contend with the great problems that confront it. It is hoped that the day is not very far distant when all our Theological colleges will be filled to overflowing with men ready to do and dare all for the Gospel of Christ.

WESTERN CLUB IS PLANNING AHEAD

All Men From West of Winnipeg Eligible.

The executive of the Western Club hope soon to announce a programme that will ensure a successful year for the club. To many Westerners at McGill this organization "needs" no introduction. To newcomers be it said that it is McGill's most flourishing sectional club, and looks for the hearty support and co-operation of every man in the University whose home is west of Winnipeg. Last year it had a membership of over one hundred, and enjoyed a very successful season, though faced with certain difficulties inevitable in the post-war reorganization of a club whose activities had been suspended for four years.

Founded in 1909, the club has always been a purely social one, and has for its object the furthering of McGill's interest in the four western provinces. It seeks, too, to bring together in a social way the Westerners scattered through the faculties of the University. With neither desire nor intention of being a clan organization, or of creating a clique spirit in the University, it caters to and encourages the true Western spirit of camaraderie and good-fellowship.

Newcomers from the West to McGill this year are urged to communicate with the president of the club, at Uptown 1391W, or with any member of the executive, whose names will be found in the Handbook or at the back of the University Calendar.

ADVANCEMENT IN DENTAL FACULTY

Will Feature Larger Clinics and Co-Operation With Other Faculties.

Additional space in the New Medical Building is being reserved this year for the uses of the Faculty of Dentistry, which was created last year from the Department of Dentistry, formerly part of the Faculty of Medicine. Three rooms have been added to the former quarters of the faculty and laboratory equipment has been placed in all rooms for use of the first and second years.

The students of the third and fourth years carry on their clinical work entirely at the Montreal General Hospital, where additional chairs will be added this year to the twenty which before comprised a clinic. The work is carried on under the supervision of graduate demonstrators and it is estimated that at least 18,000 operations will be performed this coming session. This is the only university dental department on the continent which carries on its clinical work as an integral part of a general hospital.

The McGill Faculty of Dentistry has another advantage over purely dental colleges, for the co-operation of other faculties can be relied on in carrying on certain courses. Anatomy, for instance, is studied with the medical students, metallurgy and chemistry under professors in the Faculty of Applied Science, so that the best teaching resources of the university may be used to the full in training students.

ATHLETIC ASSOC. ELECT OFFICERS

Physical Examination To Be A "Sine Qua Non."

A meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the Union, Tuesday evening, for the purpose of electing officers to receive reports from the various clubs. Carl Forbes was in the chair. "Punch" Perkins was elected to the office of vice-president and St. Clair Ward to the office of secretary.

The following men, upon furnishing written application, were reinstated to the Athletic Association: M. McNabb, R. B. Perault, H. E. Taber, G. Reed.

The rule concerning Physical Examination will be strenuously enforced during the coming athletic events, and men who do not comply will be suspended from the M.C.A.A., which forbids them to take part in all college sports. This applies to Inter-class games, the tennis tournament, etc., as well as Inter-collegiate events.

Photographers advise girls not to powder their faces before having their photographs taken. Powder flattens the features and robs the face of expression. A shiny nose "takes" better than a dull one, and the girl who can resist the natural temptation to give her nose a little dab, will have the satisfaction of seeing a far better photograph.

CHESS CLUB HELD ITS FIRST MEETING

Constitution Is Being Drawn Up and Will Be Approved Approved Monday.

A meeting of the executive of the Chess Club was held to-day at which plans for the future were discussed. These included the drawing up of a formal constitution and the suggestion that a team should be entered in the City Chess League, and in a correspondence game with Toronto University. This constitution is only of a tentative nature and will be fully discussed and ratified at a meeting on next Monday, at 8 p.m., in the Union. Other business of this general meeting will include the election of officers and the arrangements for a tournament during the present session, which, judging from the popularity of that in the last, should have a large list of entries. The meeting of the day expressed its grief at the loss of and deep appreciation of the services of the late Hon. Pres. Ridler Davies.

THEATRES

PRINCESS.

The outstanding feature of the programme at the Princess Theatre this week is The Denishawn Dancers in "Julnar of the Sea." It is a dance drama in three scenes, a poem of color and movement inspired by an Arabian tale of old Persia, and is reminiscent of Chu Chin Chow, and with touches suggestive of Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird." The scenery and costumes are unique in stage art, their richness and beauty being enhanced by special lighting effects, while the spoken words of the story blend with the action of the drama and add to the artistry of the performance.

The Prince of the story is entertained by dancing girls in Oriental costumes until he falls asleep. Then in his dream he is kissed by a beautiful maiden and awakes with a realization of the meaning of love. He sets out to find the image of his dream and locates her in the caverns of the mighty deep, where her parent, Father Neptune, reigns supreme. The latter frowns on the pleadings of the prince for the hand of the maiden, who is next found in the slave market exposed for sale.

There the prince finds her, and the love being mutual, wedding bells soon ring out their merry peal. The dancing and acting of the number is excellent throughout, and the costumes are fresh and artistically conceived. The offering is distinctly high class and was thoroughly appreciated by the opening night audience.

Ranking next in popularity with the audience was the entertaining number of Bert Fitzgibbon, comedian. Bert is a merry-maker of the first water, and from the time he appeared on the stage until he retired the audience was kept in roars of laughter with his humorous patter, songs and facial contortions.

The Big City Four—a quartette of singers of more than ordinary ability—provided a very acceptable number, featuring the old-time favorites in solo and chorus work. Marguerite Padula, in "Song Study of Boys," used the personal note effectively in a musical sketch of singing, singing and ragtime music. Quinn and Anker are an entertaining trio, their dancing, singing, and patter obviously intended to be burlesque, causing much merriment.

Mignonne Kokin and Fred Galetti furnished a novelty comedy entitled "An Italian Fantasy," in which two trained monkeys caused amusement. Raymond Wilbert gave a clever display of the art of hoop-rolling, and during his actions, which were marked with coolness and confidence, kept up a clever line of patter. The Breakaway Barlows furnished a gymnastic display that demonstrated cleverness and daring. The picture series embraced sightless veterans at play at Toronto, the construction of the Bateau bridge at Quebec, and the Welsh miners in the act of voting for a coal strike.

ORPHEUM.

The Orpheum Players last evening presented to an audience largely composed of descendants of the "Dear Green Little Isle," a comedy drama, "Come Back to Erin," an Irish play which bids fair to even surpass the popularity attained by "Peg o' My Heart," in which they were seen a few weeks ago, and which drew crowded houses during its entire week here.

This week's offering abounds in romance, comedy and song, there being several vocal numbers scattered through the play, and the witty dialogue usually associated with an Irish production was present in ample quantity. The various characters were faithfully depicted by the Players, and throughout the entire story of the play evidence is not lacking that the author, Edward Rose, was well versed in a knowledge of whom he wrote.

To William Naughton as Dan Maguire, and who with Captain Clement Fairley, played by Harvey Hayes, was an aspirant for the heart and hand of Rose Donald (Margaret Knight) must be credited a large measure of the success of the offering, his work keeping him on the stage the greater part of the time, and it is doubtful whether he has yet been seen in a more congenial character than in that assigned him this week. His rollicking good nature, even towards his enemies, his love making scenes and his generous response to entreaties during his vocal selections were in every way pleasing and the lilting Irish songs set the audience a-humming as the play ended.

Captain Clement Fairley, an officer in the British Lancers, and determined to win Rose Donald because of her money, and Dan Maguire equally determined to marry her because of his love for her, were rivals, and the story of the play is largely built around these two characters.

Bentley Harden, her uncle, and played by Charles Andre, had been found guilty of a shady transaction, and threatened exposure by Captain Fairley induced him to favor the captain's suit, while her love for Dan Maguire encouraged him to press his claims, and the rivalry existing between these two afforded many opportunities for dramatic work, of which full advantage was taken.

While all the members of the company did excellent work, mention must be made of A. S. Byron as McKenna Hohan, keeper of the Thistle and Rose Inn, and later an aspirant for the hand of Mrs. Honora Maloney, and whose comedy work kept the audience in roars of laughter and further added to his popularity with Orpheum patrons.

In Con O'Neill, the sexton of the ruined Kenmare Church, and played by Cecil Drummond, was seen an ex-

MCGILL'S PART IN OLYMPIC TRIALS BRINGS NEW LAURELS

W. R. Kennedy Showed Fine Form in Preliminaries—Lack Of Coaching a Liability—Splendid Material Can Be Developed—Many McGill Men Give Promise.

Still another laurel was added to McGill's athletic fame, when practically every member of the McGill track team remained in Montreal during the summer months to take part in the Olympic trials, to assure that the best men that Canada could produce might go forward to play their part in the world's athletic battle—the Olympic Games, which were held at Antwerp, Belgium.

The example set by McGill's splendid turnout is one that was remarked on far and wide.

During the past few years especially, field and track work in Canada was very dormant, and last year, as the Olympic trials approached, Canada was called upon to play her part in this big athletic meet, and to uphold the fame she had won in meets hitherto held. She wanted to show the world that the same spirit existed in athletics here as did in her gallant army that fought on the fields of France and Belgium. Canada had the material, but the lack of encouragement and coaching made it difficult for her to place men in the field who could compete against men from some of the other nations of the world.

Had it not been for McGill's fine turnout, then Montreal, Canada's largest city, would have had a turnout so small that it would have proved a great disappointment for a city its size.

Indeed, the benefit the team derived from the meets has proved to be of considerable value and experience. Every man on the McGill team qualified in the Eastern Canadian eliminations, and earned for himself and Montreal a place in the Olympic finals. This was truly an achievement, and went to show how well balanced a team McGill was able to put in.

As we must always expect, we were bound to suffer misfortunes, which prevented us from ever making a more creditable showing as a team.

Excellent piece of dramatic work, and he received well merited appreciation for his efforts.

Miss Mary Hill, the most recent addition to the Players, made her initial appearance this week, and while not called upon for a prominent part, gave ample evidence of her ability, and undoubtedly will give a good account of herself later as second leading lady.

William Naughton's rendition of several popular Irish airs was very pleasing and the excellent programme by the orchestra was largely made up of selections dear to the heart of every true Irishman.

The balance of the company gave splendid support, and the various scenes shown were in keeping with the general theme of the production.

GAYETY.

Al Reeves's show, "Joy Belles," opened at the Gayety Theatre Monday afternoon and evening to crowded houses and was throughout a real Al Reeves's production, bright and snappy. Its songs are all new, and are well rendered. Al Shean, the leading laugh artist, is well supported by Elsa Huger, Pauline Harris and Charlie Craft, with an added extra attraction in the Noy Brothers Colored Jazz Band. The scene is the second act in a regular classic, and the frisky chorus, a lot of pretty girls, is another feature of the show. No dull moments exist in this production, and it is one of those sure cures for the blues, with lots to admire in scenery, costumes and acts.

LOEWS.

At Loew's Theatre this week the vaudeville is up to the high order of merit established since the cool weather began, and the programme itself is diversified, from Brewster, a trained dog, billed alone, to "I'll Say So," a sketch in which Art Harris makes the audience roar. Harris has with him three other people, and the vim and snap of this sketch is unusual.

Thompson and Belsaine are two clever dancers, Wilbur and Lyke perform on the bounding mat, the lady member of the team sings with naivety a number of songs. The University Trio discourse old songs.

William Farnum, in the moving picture feature, plays the High Constable of France in the Louis Onze days, and is seen in extraordinary trappings in "If I Were King," the romantic drama.

Letters of a Soph

By Gen.

Dear Lads:

I sure does my weather-beating, but kindly old artery-feeder a whirl of good to see so many of your plain, but honest young phisogs decorating the campus. Gosh all pumpkins lads. I was a freshman once myself—I was promoted subsequent but believe it or not, I was a freshman once and may emotion choke my utterance if I don't know just what you're going through!

Speaking serious like, I want to prance forth here and now to wise you up to the fact that if you get into trouble, little Si Whiffletree, last seat, third row from door, '21 Laws, the McGill, is the right man to who to come. You may hear a lot of gab about this here Mary Currie of the Montreal Herald, but handing out credit where same is due, you'll make no mistake by laying your little heads on my manly chest. For an instance, suppose you gets a job as a reporter on the McGill Daily Journal Newspaper and the Head Editor assigns you over to the Royal Victorian College to corral some live news such as what are the prospects for this yrs Crochet team, or does the girls think they should be let eat at the Union, or what is the opinion of most of the girls about this here Lease of Nations. Then when you're busy doing your level best to get the dope for the McGill Daily Journal Newspaper as per instructions from the Head Editor, suppose—just suppose mind—some little bunch of fluff tries to obtain your none too securely tethered Rocky Mountain by hollering forth: "Has he had his bottle yet this morning, girls?—just turn round right pert and give her the merry ha! ha! After the which 'stead of reporting her to the lady principal, make a bee line for little Si Whiffletree, the "Freshman's Friend." "But," I hears you ast—"why should I come to you more'n anybody else around the McGill?" Lissen! Although I say it myself what shouldn't I been through the factory from Alpha to Beta and them R.V.C. etes knows only too dum well that when it comes to reparty, little Si from the Faculty of Laws can make them look like the well known and justly famous six nickels on their way to the mint for overhauling.

Another can't lose tip (See Gig McGillis) is this. If by some great streak of good luck, you manage to get took on to the McGill Daily Journal Newspaper staff, don't ask for more money the first few months—it ain't dignified. It's only the birds what's been working steady winter and summer what gets enough to support their cick wives and starving offspring, as the case may be, and for a freshman to start crabbing for more rhino is sure to get him in Holland with the Head Editor. Remember, lads, "it's the early bird what gets out of the nest first" and "he who laughs loudest, makes the most noise!"

Another thing—don't take it too hard if some big sophomoric bevo-bound in a sand-paper collar speaks to you rough like. No siree! spare no pains to let him know that your old man runs a livery-stable up to home and had a free complimentary pass to the Jeff Willard-Tom Dempsey "go" at Toledo a ways back, and if your little sister Ethel is in the M.E. church choir—say so. Don't hide your life under a bushel, as the feller said. It don't pay and what's more, it don't get you no marks in your exams!

While I'm at it, I want to advise you, without failure to attend the Sunday night Sings at Strathcona Hall. According to the Constitution, three consecutive attendances, one after another, at these here Sunday night Sings entitles each and every freshman, even those from the Faculty of Medicine, to a throw on the handsome tea service donated by the head R.V.C. ette. In course, if you miss one Sunday night Sing, but get a good written excuse from your dean, or the janitor of the faculty building, they won't hold it against you.

Well ads and fellow bohunks, seeing as how it's my night to sweep out the class-rooms over to the Faculty of Laws, I'll trot right along. If anybody asts you, tell them S. Whiffletree's with you till the wandering bovines reach their happy homes. Yours for lots of soap in the Union, SI.

P.S.—Elections for President of the Students' Council will be pulled off next January. Mind what I told you about the "Freshman's Friend."

Dr. Alexander Garrow, Dr. J. Alex. Hutchison, Dr. Herbert Little, Dr. D. W. Mackenzie, Dr. Oscar Mercier, Dr. E. St. Jacques, Dr. Frederick Tees, and Dr. John R. Fraser, secretary. The clinics of the following hospitals will be visited by the members during their sojourn in its city: The Royal Victoria, The Montreal General, Hotel Dieu, Western, Notre Dame, The Children's Memorial, The Montreal Maternity, and the St. Justine Hospital for Children.

The following are the names of the Montreal committee on arrangements: Dr. Armstrong, president; Dr. A. T. Bazin, Dr. W. Gordon M. Byers, Dr. W. W. Chipman, Dr. Edmund M. Eberts, Col. John M. Elder, Dr. F. E. England, Dr. A. Mackenzie Forbes,

CENTENARY OF JENNY LIND'S NATAL DAY HONORED EVERYWHERE

A very ugly baby girl it was who made her appearance in the world one hundred years ago on October 6. She was named Jenny Lind and shipped off to nurse out with a neighbor and later managed to get a wee bit of cheer in the home of her grandmother. That was in Stockholm, Sweden.

Many ugly little girls and, indeed, beautiful ones were born at the same time, but to-day we do not remember them. Yet we remember Jenny Lind—because she left a legacy of great beauty—of music, for all the world.

The Magic of Her Voice.

They learned afterward to call her the Swedish Nightingale. She had slipped to the square piano and played one day a fanfare the soldiers blew upon their bugles. Then when the grandmother came she hid under the keyboard afraid that she would be whipped. But the grandmother realized that something would come out of it, for did she not say to Jenny's none too friendly mother, "Mark you, she will bring you help."

That was ninety-seven years ago, and after that "with every step she took and every jump her feet made she sang songs to her cat with the ribbon tied around its neck." Her favorite seat was at her window, and a maid heard her and carried the news to her mistress, a variety dancer, and the mistress came to investigate, and the child was taken to the Count Duke at the King's Theatre. But the count looked down and asked if "They thought this was a kindergarten and not an opera house?" But the count and Crollins, the singing master, recognized the magic in the voice of Jenny, daughter of the Linds, and she was taken over as a charge of the state.

Music Mad Today.

From then on it was just a case of celebrating. Here in America, far from her grave, they still carry on the applause to Jenny Lind's singing. She blossomed from the ugly-duckling, undergrown girl, to a beautiful woman. Jenny Lind's soul is marching on. How many of those "who will talk about her this week will realize why Jenny Lind must forever remain a milestone in America's life? She came to America seventy years ago, when appreciation was young, when culture was a thing still in the embryo. P. T. Barnum, circus man, had brought over the operatic queen and had roused the country to see Jenny. Today, one hundred years from her birth, the city where she auctioned off her seats for her concert is music mad.

Jenny Lind's soul is marching on. What will be the state of affairs in music a century after her New York City debut—Sept. 11, 1950? Where Castle Garden stood, near the Battery, maybe they will have raised to the skies another concert hall. Where the Academy of Music once housed opera maybe there will be another.

Innumerable Festivities.

So it is meet that for the milestone she marked as well as for her own sweet soul and musical achievements she should be celebrated with rejoicing. On the evening of her birthday there will be innumerable festivities across the globe. Her own native city will enact the pageant of her life. In America scores of concert halls will recall the music of the Swedish Nightingale. In Carnegie Hall Frieda Hempel will present Jenny Lind's American debut programme. She will be in the costume of the day (1850) and will be assisted by Clarence Whiffletree, representing Signor Belletti. An orchestra dressed in the style of Julius Benedict's group will be in the picture. Even the "Welcome to America" written by Bayard Taylor will be included. Jenny Lind's own old Chickering piano will be used for accompaniments.

ENGLISH RUGBY TO BE STARTED AGAIN

Meeting To Be Held on Wednesday At the Hall.

Due to an apparently unsurmountable difficulty in the matter of securing practice grounds, failure marked an attempt made last year to re-establish the English Rugby Club and to revive the game at McGill. It is hoped that the club will be resurrected this year, and to this end a meeting of all those interested is called for 5 o'clock to-day (Wednesday), at Strathcona Hall.

Meantime, the matter is being taken up with the Athletic Association, and it is hoped not only to make satisfactory arrangements regarding grounds, but also to so establish the status of the club that it will merit the support of all English Rugby enthusiasts in the University, and thus regain its one-time important place among athletics at McGill.

Those interested may obtain further particulars upon application either to F. P. McNamee (Up. 6084), or to R. S. O'Meara (Up. 1391W).

The peculiarity of the cardinal's hat is that it is not intended to be worn. On one occasion only is it to be seen on the head of the cardinal, and that is when the Pope places it there as a symbol of its owner's elevation to the Sacred College. When a cardinal dies it is placed upon his coffin.

membership. Early in its career the college found work to do in trying to eliminate unnecessary surgical work and hospital standardization. In this line the college accomplished great work and has had a wonderful effect throughout the medical schools in the United States.

To become a Fellow of the college the applicant must have presented fifty cases of surgery on which he has operated. The fellowship of the college numbers close to five thousand. The college is a Pan-American institution, but from the beginning Canadians have had an active interest in its work.

A. D. Ballou, of Chicago, is the business manager of the convocation. Dr. Byers is the chairman of the publicity committee, and Dr. A. T. Bazin will be in charge of the reception committee.
